TROOPS TO CHICAGO!

SAD-EYED DOVES AIDED BY "BILL" HOLD MEETINGS

They Cheer Their 'Kamerad' at Morning Session and Jeer Governor in the Afternoon.

CHIDE STATE TROOPS

With the aggressive assistance of "Big Bill" the doves of peace were able to slip over two meetings yesterday. The first was a secret session at the office of Forward, a Jewish paper, 1144 South Halsted street, where "Kamerad Bill" was cheered and applauded for the first time in several months. The second was the big West Side Auditorium session, where the governor and President were criticised, the national policy opposed and the sending of state troops made a subject of laughter and jeers.

It was shortly after 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon when Louis Lochner's pacifist band congregated under police protection at the West Side hall.

The disciples were slightly threadbare and evidently weary after their wanderings through the deserts of patriotism, but they did not attempt to conceal their satisfaction in the espousal of their cause by "Kamerad" Thompson, which made the meeting possible.

"Dot's a feller vat's a real man," said a thickly built delegate from Milwaukee, his eyes beaming approval behind thick-lensed spectacles.
